

Celtic Studies
The University of Sydney

presents

EARLY CELTIC LEGAL LANGUAGE

a symposium

FRIDAY 28 AUGUST 2009

COMMON ROOM, JOHN WOOLLEY BUILDING, UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY

Programme

- 9.30 registration and welcome
- 10.00 Professor Anders Ahlqvist (Celtic Studies, University of Sydney)
Early Irish learned texts
- 10.45 Ms Celia Scott (Historical Studies, University of Melbourne)
Conversing with the past: direct speech in the laws, sagas and hagiographies
- 11.30 Ms Julianna Grigg (Historical Studies, University of Melbourne)
The performative 'privileges' of the Nemed grades in early Irish society
- 12.15 morning tea (provided)
- 1.00 Professor Neil McLeod (Law, Murdoch University)
Cath Maige Tuired: Irish myth and Irish law
- 2.00 lunch
- 3.00 Ms Jade Harman (Law, Murdoch University)
Causation in early Irish law
- 3.45 Dr Pamela O'Neill (Celtic Studies, University of Sydney)
Towards a relative chronology of early Irish law
- 4.30 afternoon tea (provided)
- 5.00 panel discussion:
The significance of early Celtic law for lawyers, linguists and historians
- 5.30 concluding remarks and wine reception

REGISTRATION FEE: $66 ($33 CONCESSION) INCLUDING GST

TO REGISTER: WWW.ARTS.USYD.EDU.AU/DEPARTS/CELTICSTUDIES

ENQUIRIES: DR PAMELA O'NEILL (pamalaadh@gmail.com)
PROFESSOR ANDERS AHLQVIST (02 9351 3841)

supported by

AUSTRALIAN RESEARCH COUNCIL
NETWORK FOR EARLY
EUROPEAN RESEARCH

Celtic
Studies
FOUNDATION